A Future Boulevard of Mexico City. Mexico City is probably the oldest city on the American continent, its history dating back to the 12th century. Besides being the capital of the republic, it is the residence of the President, the seat of a bishop and of a university. The principal boulevard of the city is the celebrated "Paseo de la Reforma," leading from the centre of the city to the castle grounds of Chapultepec. The view shows a tract of ground which in the near future will be a boulevard, so rapidly does the city grow.
